Please join us for a unique opportunity to hear and experience the story of the birth of jazz. This little-known story of how the church participated in the formation of the art form of jazz will be told through a combination of narrative and keyboard concert by The Rev. Dr. Eugene L. Lowry.

The Rev. Lowry served as professor of preaching for over 30 Years at Saint Paul School of Theology in Kansas City, Missouri. Now that he is no longer actively serving as professor, his travels as preacher, teacher and pianist have broadened in scope. He is an ordained United Methodist Elder and writer of books and articles. His keyboard lecture/concerts relating jazz and Christianity have produced four recordings in the blues/jazz mode.
